Transite Technology Signs Deal with CARQUEST Auto Parts to provide Transportation Management Solution

Transite's Quantum solution chosen to lower cost, streamline processes for CARQUEST'S 3,400-store operation

RALEIGH, NC—July 14, 2009—Transite Technology, a leading provider of transportation management solutions, software and services, has been chosen by CARQUEST Auto Parts to supply core transportation management technologies and services. CARQUEST, with more than 3,400 stores throughout North America, will utilize Transite's Quantum solution to lower cost and streamline processes of the inbound and outbound transportation and shipping portions of their supply chain.

"The selection methods conducted by CARQUEST were some of the most thoughtful and rigorous we've seen," said Geoff Comrie, CEO of Transite. "Our rate negotiation services are proven to immediately lower shipping costs, while our technology platform and tools accelerate processes through data-based decision making and automation."

Transite's Quantum solution is the company's flagship offering as it combines Transite's best-of-breed services with the company's best-of-breed products.

"This is where we see customers saving the most money while getting the most operational benefit," said Comrie. "And, in line with our other offerings, Quantum is cost-effective, quickly implemented and very flexible."
